To Whom It May Concern:

I met Tyler Nolan on May 10, 2000 when he was born. I am one of his grandmothers and have been blessed to watch him grow into the young man he is today. I am very proud to be his grandmother.

Tyler was and still is a very energetic boy. He always wanted to learn new things, therefore school has always been an important part of his life. While he was in elementary school he began showing traits of leadership and responsibility.

As he has grown the traits from elementary school have continued along with a hard work ethic. He is respectful to all adults, coaches and teachers. Regardless of what sport he is in, he is faithful to be at practice and is a great encouragement to other team mates and friends. This has been shown by several team awards that have been awarded to him by the team members

Tyler has a very strong faith and belief in God. This comes through in his strong morals. He serves at his church with both children and peers. His faith is the basis for all the decisions he makes. This faith also is seen in the great amount of compassion he has for others.

As I see him enter adulthood and the next chapter of his life, I see all the positive traits continuing. He is becoming very professional and honorable. He is capable of dealing with whatever he may face.

I am proud and pleased to recommend him for any opportunities that he will face.

Sincerely,

Natalie J. Nolan
